Mtg reveillark karmic guide combo. Mtg karmic guide combos.

Hey there, hi there, ho there. I'm curious what combos you can think of that involve Karmic Guide but don't include Reveillark. I'm also very interested in any combos you can come up with using any of the cards listed below, the only requirement is no combos with Reveillark. Karmic Guide + Body Double/Volrath's Shapeshifter + sac outlet = infinite sacAs long as you sac each one on eth, they recur each other as many times as you want. Karmic Guide + Saffi Eriksdotter + sac outlet = infinite sacSac Saffi Eriksdotter targeting Karmic Guide, sac Karmic Guide to get it back, target Saffi. Loop-dee -oop. Karmic Guide + Fiend Hunter + sac outlet = infinite sacTarget Karmic Guide with a Fiend Hunter trigger, exile it, sac the Fiend Hunter, bring it back with Karmic Guide, repeat to heart's content. Karmic Guide + Sun Titan + Animate Dead + sac outlet = infinite sacAnimate Dead on Karmic Guide. Karmic Guide is put into play, but Animate Dead goes to the grave because it has protection from black. Target Sun Titan with Karmic Guide's ETB, get back Animate Dead, sac Sun Titan. Machine gun it! I'm currently widdling away at an Alara decklist. "Aristocrats", in Magic: the Gathering, refers to a strategy that involves sacrificing your own creatures (named after Cartel Aristocrat). Of course, killing your own creatures is disadvantageous, but there are many cards that gain special effects when your creatures die. You can even perform infinite combos with this strategy using cards such as Body Launderer, a new aristocrat-style card from Streets of New Capenna. Body Launderer Wizards of the Coast Body Launderer, regular art (left) and extended border (right) Body Launderer serves multiple roles in an aristocrat deck. It has a useful ability when you sacrifice other creatures, but Launderer is just as useful when sacrificed itself. It is Body Launderer's second ability that has infinite combo potential, but conniving with its first ability can help find your other combo pieces. There are multiple ways to combo with Body Launderer across Magic formats, so let's check out a few: Body Launderer in Commander There are a few ways to combo with Body Launderer in Commander, but one of the most efficient combos uses Karmic Guide and a sacrifice outlet such as Goblin Bombardment. Wizards of the Coast Wizards of the Coast Karmic Guide (left) and Goblin Bombardment (right) For the purpose of this example, let's assume you have Body Launderer, Karmic Guide, and Goblin Bombardment in play. Here's how the combo works: Use Goblin Bombardment to sacrifice Karmic Guide and deal one damage to an opponent. Body Launderer connives. Use Goblin Bombardment to sacrifice Launderer and deal another damage. Body Launderer's ability triggers when it dies returning Karmic Guide to the battlefield. Karmic Guide enters the battlefield and returns Body Launderer to the battlefield. Repeat Steps 1-5. Because Body Launderer connives each time you perform this loop, you can only loop this combo equal to the number of cards left in your deck. But it results in near-infinite damage and you'll draw your entire library. You can substitute other sacrifice outlets for Goblin Bombardment in this combo. For example, use Phyrexian Altar to gain near-infinite colored mana. Once you connive through your entire deck, you can cast Thassa's Oracle and win the game on the spot. Wizards of the Coast Wizards of the Coast Phyrexian Altar (left) and Thassa's Oracle (right) Read More: Is There Finally a Vampire Commander to Rival Edgar Markov? The Standard Legal Combo Using a pair of Clones, you can assemble a combo similar to the Karmic Guide combo in any Magic format. For the purpose of making this combo Standard-legal, I'll use Mirrorhall Mimic in this example. But you can construct similar combos in other formats with other clones such as Phantasmal Image or Phyrexian Metamorph. Any two clones will do the trick as long as neither clone is a Rogue (like Glasspool Mimic). Wizards of the Coast Wizards of the Coast Mirrorhall Mimic, Immerstrum Predator, and The Meathook Massacre from left to right respectively While Mirrorhall Mimic is on the battlefield as a copy of Body Launderer it is a Rogue. But when it is in the graveyard, it goes back to being a Spirit. With that in mind, here's how this combo works assuming you have Body Launderer, Immerstrum Predator, and a Mirrorhall Mimic in play (copying Launderer), with a Mirrorhall Mimic in your graveyard: Use Immerstrum Predator to sacrifice the Mimic copy of Body Launderer. The Mimic copy of Body Launderer triggers when it dies, returning the other Mirrorhall Mimic in your graveyard to play. The original Body Launderer connives. Repeat Steps 1-3. Once again, you can perform this loop equal to the number of cards in your library. But the original copy of Body Launderer will get a +1/+1 counter each time you discard a nonland card with its connive ability. This can easily grow Launderer to lethal stat levels. But you can also use something like The Meathook Massacre to drain you opponent's life total each time you sacrifice a Mirrorhall Mimic. Read More: Turn Treasures Into Infinite Damage With This Sweet New Capenna Combo Selet Game Select language Select currency Language selector Hi there! First, I have thought that Priest of Forgotten Gods has been undervalued ever since the first time I saw her, so I'll suggest that for sure. Same goes for Bog Witch, Culling the Weak and Innocent Blood. Next, don't know if you're into the whole Karmic Guide + Reveillark combo (I, myself, intentionally avoid going infinite if I can help it), but I'll drop that here anyway. If you spoke to that in the description, I apologize. I just skimmed through that and might have missed something. Finally, some more pricey cards worth mentioning that are not in your Maybeboard are Luminous Broodmoth, Michiko Konda, Truth Seeker and Pitiless Plunderer. Cheers! A bit of a long comment for you to chew some ideas over. I'm just going to throw out some cards that work for the aristocrats strategy that I think the commander would work well with. Then I'll give you some combos that could work here. Most of the combos rely heavily on white cards, so I think they are all pretty cheap. I'm sure there's a lot more that you could use, but these are the ones that come to my mind. Aristocrat Mana Producers Pitiless Plunderer , Sifter of Skulls , Nether Traitor , Pawn of Ulamog Recursion Reveillark , Karmic Guide , Sun Titan , Gift of Immortality , Angelic Renewal , Luminous Broodmoth , Mikaeus, the Unhallowed , Sorin, Vengeful Bloodlord , Nim Deathmantle Self-Recursive Creatures Reassembling Skeleton , Bloodsoaked Champion , Oathsworn Vampire Free Sacrifice Outlets Ashnod's Altar , Phyrexian Altar , Altar of Dementia , Blasting Station , Viscera Seer , Bloodthrone Vampire , Carrion Feeder , Spawning Pit , Bloodfloss Connoisseur Vish Kal, Blood Arbiter Aristocrat Payoffs Blood Artist , Cruel Celebrant , Falkenrath Noble , Zulaport Cutthroat Vampires I'm sure these fit into combos, but I'll leave them to you to evaluate. Marauding Blight-Priest , Famished Paladin Epicure of Blood Defiant Bloodlord Cliffhaven Vampire Vito, Thorn of the Dusk Rose Combos with a free sacrifice outlet Karmic Guide + Reveillark : Karmic Guide can return Reveillark to the battlefield. Sacrifice Karmic Guide, then Reveillark. Reveillark's death trigger returns Karmic Guide to the battlefield. Karmic Guide's ETB (enters the battlefield) trigger can return Reveillark to the battlefield. Repeat forever. Reveillark can also return another small creature to the battlefield in addition to Karmic Guide. Gift of Immortality + Sun Titan : Enchant Sun Titan with Gift of Immortality. Sacrifice Sun Titan. Gift of Immortality returns Sun Titan to the battlefield. Sun Titan's ETB trigger returns Gift of Immortality to the battlefield, attached to Sun Titan. Repeat forever. Kaya's Ghostform + Sun Titan : Same as Gift of Immortality combo above. Angelic Renewal + Sun Titan : Same as above. Fiend Hunter + Sun Titan : Exile Sun Titan with Fiend Hunter's ETB. Sacrifice Fiend Hunter to return Sun Titan to the battlefield. Return Fiend Hunter to the battlefield with Sun Titan's ETB. Exile Sun Titan with Fiend Hunter's ETB. Repeat forever. Fiend Hunter + Karmic Guide : Same as Sun Titan combo above. Leonin Relic-Warder combos Animate Dead + Leonin Relic-Warder : Start with Leonin Relic-Warder in your graveyard. Play Animate Dead to bring Leonin-Relic Warder back from your graveyard. Exile Animate Dead with Leonin-Relic-Warder's ETB. Leonin Relic-Warder dies to Animate Dead leaving the battlefield. Animate Dead returns to the battlefield targeting Leonin-Relic Warder. Exile Animate Dead with Leonin-Relic Warder's ETB. Repeat forever. Dance of the Dead + Leonin Relic-Warder : Same as above. Leonin Relic-Warder + Necromancy : Same as above. Infinite Sacrifice Fodder Divine Visitation + Requiem Angel : Sacrificing a creature will trigger Requiem Angel to create a 1/1 Spirit Token. Divine Visitation causes that to instead be a 4/4 Angel Token, which can be sacrificed to trigger Requiem Angel to create another 1/1 spirit that comes into play as a 4/4 Angel. Bishop of Wings + Divine Visitation : Same as above, but you also gain 4 life each time. I read the previous comments, and I applaud you for intentionally foregoing infinite loops. I feel exactly the same way. Like how I refuse to add that Karmic Guide + Reveillark combo in my Cleverly Named Graveyard Deck. Nor any of the many combos involving Lab Man in neither my Spirit of '76 nor my Ramos Cascade Ramp, nor any other applicable combos. As for card suggestions, I feel like Chandra's Incinerator might be useful for controlling the board, and Eidolon of the Great Revel makes sense because of your high mana cost distribution (if not also Pyrostatic Pillar, even though it's a noncreature), and also because this deck seems most effective against decks with incredibly low mana cost distribution. Possibly also Trinisphere, which again is noncreature. That's all I got. You're absolutely right on a lot of levels, and honestly that's what made me feel like this was the right place for my rant. But one more point before I finish. I think that the majority of the parody exists in the infinite combos. If you look at the comments on the reanimator deck I posted above, you'll notice that I respectfully declined adding the Karmic Guide + Reveillark combo. I have hence found that combo in 9-out-of-10 reanimator decks, give or take. But then, to use the example you gave, why the f would you not put Contagion Engine in every single Atraxa deck? It's a damn good synergy, and you'd be denying yourself the best possible synergy for the deck if you didn't include it. Is it creative or unique? Absolutely not. But it's a no-brainer. It's like, if you want a pillow fort, you include Ghostly Prison and Propaganda. If you want ramp in 5-color, you run Cryptolith Rite and Bloom Tender. If you're building a cascade deck, and it doesn't have Maelstrom Wanderer or Maelstrom Nexus, are you even trying? These are the best cards for their respective themes. The creative element is in choosing what spells you place around the obvious ones. Back in the day, if you were building a suicide black deck, you included Necropotence, because that card was the definition of suicide black. If you had a draw deck, it had Underworld Dreams in it, because otherwise there was no point. A helluva lot of cards have been printed since then, but the results are the same. If you play this theme, you should include these cards. If you can figure out a way to still be unique and creative, you're above the curve in my book. Again, please take no offense. This is a general rant not meant specifically for you. My only point is that there's a lot of parody because there's only so many cards that are the best cards for any given theme. Players like you and I - and we're not alone, even if we're the minority - will still find a way to build different. We play for fun, even if ultimately we would like to win more often than not. Whenever I see decks on here that are obviously EDHREC coppasta, I generally ignore them. But I won't besmirch them being what they are. You see? I did get around to looking at your deck! Pretty sweet build. Now that I see your fill package, I feel like I need to see about putting Life from the Loam into my own deck. Also, Beast Whisperer!!!! Why didn't you recommend that to me? Why didn't I think of that my own damn self?! I'm running more creatures than you, and I never thought of him. He, and Runic Armasaur, will find a way into my deck. I second the above suggestion of running Blood Artist or, as I do in my deck, Cruel Celebrant. Or, better yet (albeit, for more mana), Syr Konrad, the Grim. Image pulling off the Karmic Guide + Reveillark combo with Grumpy Grim on the field. But it would work with just his little sister. All in all, you've given me a wealth of ideas. Cheers! I do agree that generating mana during the combo is not all that useful, but 2-cmc ramp that lets you play Zur a turn early is always good. I'm also not sold on the 5-cmc tutors, but I'm not sure if there are any better options... Dark Petition might be better for occasionally generating some mana (and fixing it to black if that's what you need). Beseech the Queen might also be a better option. You'd probably never get the chance to cast it for 3, but a slightly worse Diabolic Tutor might be better than one of the other options. Sidisi, Undead Vizier is another possibility, and can be recurred via Karmic Guide. I think Altar of Dementia might be better than Altar of the Brood. While costing another mana, it works the same in your Intruder Alarm combos, and also works with Fiend Hunter + Sun Titan and Karmic Guide + Reveillark . Finally, I think Animate Dead is probably a great inclusion. You can tutor it with Zur to recur your stuff, and it can combo with Sun Titan.
